

BIOGRAPHY

Frank T. Anbari,

Assistant Professor, Project Management Program
The George Washington University

Frank T. Anbari (PhD in Project Management and Quality Enhancement, MS in Engineering, MBA, PE, PMP, and ASQ Certified Six Sigma Black Belt), is a faculty member in the Project Management Program at The George Washington University. He gained extensive experience in leadership positions in industry, and taught in the graduate programs at Drexel University, Penn State University, and the University of Texas at Dallas. He served as Examiner (1993-1995) and Alumni Examiner (1999-2000) for the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, and as member of the Editorial Review Boards of Quality Management Journal (1993-1998) and Project Management Journal (2000-Present). Dr. Anbari conducts research, presents, and publishes extensively on significant, timely topics in project management.

NASA Project Management Conference